

Don't Weep For Me

1

*I was born, out of your womb,
I became your child,
You raised me up,
In that summer so mild.*

2

*You held me in your loving arms,
You quenched my thirst,
You fed my hunger,
I was born, but not the first.*

3

*I saw your beauty all around;
The stars in your eyes,
The breadth of your love,
All the things that made you wise.*

4

*You gave me comfort from within,
A solid rock upon to stand,
A path for me to follow,
Guided by your loving hand.*

5

*Don't weep for me, now that I'm gone,
But miss me through the years,
Oh mother, oh Finland,
Don't shed your precious tears.*

6

*I saw a lady, her arm stretched high,
A golden torch held in her hand,
I miss my Finland, oh how I do,
But this is now my loving land.*
